ADIPEC 2022: Maximize your presence with Hydrocarbon Processing

Showcasing your company at a major trade show is a dedicated undertaking, involving meticulous planning, many working hours and considerable resources. Given the level of commitment required, marketers need to ensure that their presence attracts the most qualified professionals while delivering a good return on investment. Now you can partner with Hydrocarbon Processing to make the most of your investment at ADIPEC 2022. With an industry-leading, direct-request circulation base of more than 24,000 HPI professionals (over 97,680 readers), Hydrocarbon Processing is uniquely positioned to maximize your company's presence before, during and after the event.

An integral part of pre-conference preparations, Hydrocarbon Processing's conference promotional package puts the audience of the industry's premier publication at the service of marketing professionals. Leveraging a powerful combination of print, online and newsletter promotions, Hydrocarbon Processing's conference package allows marketers to promote their presence and message even beyond the event's audience.

The conference promotional package includes:

- Full-page advert in Hydrocarbon Processing (October or November)
- Banner on Hydrocarbon Processing's daily newsletter (one week in November)
- Editorial visit at the event
- Social media (Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn) postings from the event
- Mention in post-event report (digital only).

Price: USD $12,500 net

Hydrocarbon Processing's 2022 conference promotional package is also available for AFPM Annual Meeting, AFPM Summit, andACHEMA.

Combination packages leveraging the audience bases of both Hydrocarbon Processing and Gas Processing & LNG are also available upon request.
